Umrah System of Regulation

Introduction

In today's complex world, a new industry has emerged to service the mu'tamirs (Umrah performers from abroad). To ensure the safety and comfort of Umrah performers, the Saudi Arabian Council of Ministers decided that a system of regulation should be established to provide a sound basis for contractual relations between service providers and Umrah performers and to outline the rights, duties and responsibilities of all those involved.

As a result, a number of companies in the Saudi private sector were licensed to provide Umrah-related services through clearly defined service contracts that state the prices for various "packages" of service. The licensing provisions also required the appointment through contractual arrangements of approved overseas travel agents to market Umrah-related "packages".

Benefits of the System

The new Umrah System of Regulation has brought many benefits:

- Mu'tamirs receive the agreed services for which the service provider has contracted. This has eliminated "living on the street" in the vicinity of the two Holy Mosques.
- The competitive environment in which the service providers operate has generated a marked improvement in the services provided.
- The process of issuing Umrah visas and associated procedures has been streamlined to meet the objective of welcoming 10 million mu'tamirs by the end of the fifth year of operation.
- The system has facilitated visits by mu'tamirs to other Saudi cities, thus enhancing the Kingdom's tourism industry.
- Those who are able can perform any number of Umrahs in the course of the year without restriction.
- Transit passengers are granted 72 hour visas to enable them to perform Umrah.
- Because Umrah companies are obliged to ensure their customers leave the Kingdom when their "package" is completed, there has been a marked reduction in the number of "over-stayers".
- Dedicated supervisory and administrative committees deal with any shortcomings, with the Ministry of Hajj providing any services on which the Umrah company has defaulted at the expense of the defaulting company.
Global Electronic Network for Umrah

The goals of the Umrah System of Regulation were exceedingly ambitious and called for the application of an automated, electronic approach, employing state of the art technology which could accommodate scaling up and upgrading. The Ministry entered into partnerships with the most advanced companies in the fields of system infrastructure, communications, information security, and database management. Working together, each in its own sphere of expertise and under the supervision of the Ministry, these companies produced the Global Electronic Network for Umrah with, at its heart, the Hajj and Umrah Data Center.

Using the latest technologies including Digital Telephone Lines (DDN), Fiber Optics, wireless data communications and V-Satellites, the Hajj and Umrah Data Center links all Ministry offices in all cities, serving as the central hub of the network. The Center connects to:

- Umrah companies and overseas travel agents
- The National Data Center at the Ministry of Interior
- The Data Center at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs

The Center holds databases on:

- All pilgrims including mu'tamirs
- Hotels and furnished apartments
- Car companies
- Airlines
- Restaurants and food caterers
- Other service providers

Online data is provided for the Ministry's senior personnel so that they can monitor and act if there is any violation of pilgrim rights.

Umrah Application Service Providers (UASP)

The Ministry of Hajj has licensed five Umrah Application Service Providers (UASPs) for the following purposes:

- to organize and facilitate data communication between the Hajj and Umrah Data Center, Umrah companies and overseas travel agents.
- to ensure best business practice and provide accurate and timely transaction of data
- to enable companies to concentrate on their core business objectives, such as planning and supervision, analyzing operational data, and pin-pointing market needs and future operational requirements.
All Umrah companies are required to subscribe to one of the five UASPs.

- Before subscribing, all Umrah companies must fulfill all technical qualification requirements.
- Once they have selected and been accepted by a UASP, the Umrah company can post its Umrah "packages" on the internet, thus giving mutamirs a wide choice.
- The personal details and chosen package for each mu'tamir is then entered online by the travel agents and transmitted to the Hajj and Umrah Data Center via the relevant UASP.
- The Ministry of Hajj checks and verifies the information and returns the information to the Data Center.
- The verified information is then transmitted to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Data Service Provider which, in turn, forwards the information to the relevant consulate in the mu'tamir's country for the issuing of an electronic visa bearing the mu'tamir's personal details and photograph.

Role of the Private Sector

The private sector now owns an expanding infrastructure built on sound economic projections.

The private sector now shares in the responsibility of ensuring the mu'tamirs are well served. As a result, the private sector has been able to redirect a large share of Umrah-related revenues to the domestic Saudi economy, revenues which previously went elsewhere.

There are now some 224 Umrah companies registered with the five UASPs and these Umrah companies have association with 3,500 overseas travel agents. There is increased service sector activity benefiting airlines, land transportation, hotels and furnished accommodation and restaurants.

The private sector is also expanding the tourism sector. The Umrah System of Regulation has created more than 2,000 jobs, including managerial and financial. In the specific area of tourism, jobs have been created for "package" designers, tour planners, marketeers, public relations staff and accommodation specialists. In the technical field, there is work for database managers, programmers and network engineers.
Training for Umrah System

In order to ride the technology wave and benefit from the employment opportunities created by the Umrah System, an urgent need has arisen for specialists capable of operating the new system from both technological and operational standpoints. We are witnessing the simultaneous growth and development of another industry, namely the training industry. There is now a race amongst training centers to offer specialized and customized training courses for the Umrah System.

The Ministry of Hajj was yet again at the forefront, establishing a Hajj and Umrah Workers Training Center which is currently developing highly specialized courses in conjunction with experts in this industry, as well as with Saudi universities and vocational centers.
